

The fifth dimension (5d) realm of light

New Reply

- Share
- Thread Tools
-

Enrique

Posts: 537

The fifth dimension (5d) is a realm of light that centers in the human heart and is resonant with Earth's biological creatures and plants. For humans, the light's vibrational frequency is called Samadhi, the real-izable human experience of communion with the divine. According to the Ps, the keepers of 5D are beings from the Pleiades, a star system that is located in the Tuaras constellation, the great bull in the sky. The Pleiadians have been the ancestors of many indigenous clans on Earth for at least 40,000 years, as pointed out by several prehistorians. The description of this dimension by the Ps, as well as its connection with earth, is mind-boggling. They say a great spiral of stellar light from the Pleiades reaches our sun, and our sun is the eighth of the large of the Pleiades. The Generator of the spiral is Alcyone, the central star of the Pleiades from Earth's view. Astronomically, this seems bizarre, yet a few astronomers and early Greeks described this same spiralic geometry of light between the Pleiades and the sun. Mayan medicine brothers, Hunbatz Men, has written about this system, since it is the basis of the long count in the Mayan calendar. Somehow the Ps. have a great impact on Earth via this system, as if they slide into our world through a nautilus spiral when significant "news" arrive.

